Katherine Antos is a Senior Policy Advisor at the District of Columbia’s Department of Energy and Environment. In her current role, Ms. Antos oversees the development and execution of priority initiatives for the agency that advance watershed restoration, environmental education, workforce development, community engagement, resilience, and urban agriculture. Ms. Antos previously served as Chief of the Partnering and Environmental Conservation Branch. Prior to DOEE, she was the Ambassador for the Anacostia River under the Urban Waters Federal Partnership. From 2007 – 2016, Ms. Antos worked at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency on the restoration of the Chesapeake Bay Program. Ms. Antos has received national and regional recognition for her work restoring watersheds and leading change at DOEE and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. She holds a Master’s degree in City Planning from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a Bachelor of Arts in Environmental Studies from Brown University.